Ohio HealthCare Federal Credit Union Announces the Newly Created Healthcare Credit Union System

Dublin, OH (11/20/14) – Ohio HealthCare Federal Credit Union has announced the release of its new trade name, the Healthcare Credit Union System (HCUS). Ohio HealthCare and its new partner credit union, MedPro, will operate as divisions of the Healthcare Credit Union System.

“Laying the building blocks for the Healthcare Credit Union System is an important opportunity for healthcare credit unions in Ohio,” says Bill Butler, President of HCUS. “Our passion is to serve Ohio’s healthcare workforce. HCUS provides us with a framework to effectively serve the entire healthcare community throughout Ohio. I encourage all of Ohio’s healthcare credit unions to consider joining HCUS. Together we can build a powerhouse and sustainable credit union dedicated to serving all healthcare professionals in Ohio.”

In early 2014, Ohio HealthCare and MedPro joined forces under a collaborative initiative that allows the two credit unions to share back office duties and expenses to better serve healthcare professionals throughout Ohio. This partnership allows each credit union to maintain its individual brand – neither has undergone a name change. They now operate as divisions of the Healthcare Credit Union System. The credit unions will unite their passion, talent, and resources to focus on their most important asset – their members.

“When healthcare credit unions partner together to provide more services and opportunities to the thousands of members they serve, everyone wins,” says Becky Howell, CEO of the MedPro division. “We are now able to offer expanded services and increased convenience to our members. Our members appreciate that the same staff that has served them over the years is still serving their financial needs.”

The Healthcare Credit Union System now serves more than 12,000 healthcare professionals and their families.
